COURSE DESCRIPTION AND GOALS

Welcome to SPANISH 2 and SPANISH 3 at Penn State! These hybrid courses (i.e., consisting of an online and in-person component) are for students who are native speakers of a language other than Spanish. It is part of the Spanish Basic Language Program (SBLP), https://sblp.la.psu.edu. Please note that there will be no late adds to these courses.

These four-credit courses will consist of online and offline learning. Two weekly hours of these one-semester courses are completed in class and the rest (instruction + assignments) is fulfilled online and offline. The purpose of these courses is to develop and improve communication skills in Spanish while listening, reading, speaking, and writing in the target language. Spanish 2 and 3 follow a communicative, information-based task approach, which comes from the idea that languages are best learned when real-world information becomes the focus of students' activities. Therefore, during the semester, you will exchange real-life information about yourself with your classmates and instructor.

Spanish 2 and 3 also follow the flipped-classroom method, where instruction and basic practice are done outside of class, online and asynchronously, before you review and practice this course content in the classroom. This method allows you to acquire the grammar and vocabulary at your own pace and frees up class time for the real-world communicative practice of the language.

LEVEL OF PROFICIENCY

Spanish 2 is designed for students who have successfully completed Spanish 1 at Penn State or the equivalent level at another university, or who have taken and successfully completed two or three years of high-school Spanish within four years immediately preceding admission to college. Students with course work equivalent to the level of Spanish 2 will not receive credit for Spanish 2. There are no exceptions to this policy.

Spanish 3 is designed for students who have successfully completed Spanish 2 at Penn State, the equivalent level at another university, or who have taken and successfully completed four years of high-school Spanish within four years immediately preceding admission to college. Students with course work equivalent to the level of Spanish 3 will not receive credit for Spanish 3. There are no exceptions to this policy.

Native Spanish speakers and students with life-long contact with Spanish may not enroll in Spanish 2 or 3. There are no exceptions to this policy. Alternate online courses for these students are SPAN 100A and SPAN 301, which are specifically designed for this type of learner. For questions related to these courses, please contact Dr. Ariana Mikulski at amm71@psu.edu or visit the Heritage Spanish site, https://sip.la.psu.edu/undergraduate/spanish/heritage-spanish.

For more information, please see the Placement Policy for World Language Courses, https://bulletins.psu.edu/undergraduate/general-information/academic-information/advising-planning-degree-program/course-placements/placement-policy-world-language-courses.

Also, if you have taken the AP exam and have received a score of 3 or above, or if you have taken the IB exam and have received a score of 5 or higher on the Higher-Level exam, you will receive the 12 credits required to fulfill the foreign language proficiency requirement and will therefore not be able to take Spanish 2 or Spanish 3 for credit. There are no exceptions to this policy.

If you wish to see if you can be placed in a higher level of Spanish, you may take the Diagnostic Exam. It is free and assesses your level of proficiency. It does not grant credits or give grades, but it does count towards your foreign language requirements. The Diagnostic Exam is available only during the first week of the semester and takes place at the Pollock Testing Center (104 Pollock Building) from 8:00 AM to 6:00 PM. More information about the Diagnostic Exam can be found at https://sblp.la.psu.edu/courses/spanish-diagnostic-exam.

REQUIRED COURSE MATERIALS

The required Spanish 2 and 3 textbooks have been created especially for Penn State and are available only at the Penn State and State College Student bookstores. New and used textbooks purchased elsewhere will not meet the requirements for the course. Do not open your textbook or discard your receipt until you are sure you are in the appropriate level. Your textbook includes an access code to grant you access to the online course material. If your textbook does not have an access code, return it to the bookstore and get a new copy.

Other Required Materials

- Headphones or speakers for online audio activities
- For your written exams at the Pollock Testing Center, you need to bring wired headphones with a standard 3.5 mm jack
- A good bilingual paper dictionary
- A binder (to hold the textbook)
- An active PSU email account
- An internet connection with a speed of at least 2 Mbps

If you do not own a computer, you can still complete your online work (presentations and quizzes) at any of the computer labs on campus.

COMMUNICATION

There are several ways that you can communicate with your instructor and your classmates. Learn about these tools by reading the descriptions below.

E-mail and Office Hours

You can email your instructor through Penn State Outlook or Canvas. Send a message if you would like to discuss an exam/quiz or a personal matter (e.g., grades, illness, family emergency, etc.). Please do not send out emails unrelated to class. Your instructor will check their email every 24 hours, except during weekends. You may set up Canvas to automatically forward your email to your Outlook Penn State email, so that you will only need to check your email in one place. Here is an explanation on how to set up your notification preferences on Canvas, https://www.e-education.psu.edu/library/book/export/html/736.

Your instructor will be available to meet you during their office hours, https://sblp.la.psu.edu/people or by appointment. If your instructor asks you to meet with them, you have to do so within a week. If you cannot attend their office hours, please send them your availability. Your instructor will decide whether to hold office hours via Zoom or in their on-campus office.

For concerns related to course content (e.g., problems with Spanish grammar and vocabulary), reply to the General Questions Discussion Forum (Foro de dudas) in Canvas.

Technical Help Form

For concerns related to technology (e.g., problems with quizzes, using Canvas or MyLab Spanish features), please contact the Spanish Basic Language Program's Technology Coordinator using the link to the Technical Help Form (https://sblp.la.psu.edu/tech-support/helpform) in the Course Support module in Canvas.

General Questions Discussion Forum (Foro de dudas)

In the Course Support Module, reply to the Foro de dudas in Canvas and post your questions and doubts about grammar and vocabulary to your instructor. If you have a question, first check whether a classmate has already asked the same question and received an answer; if no one has, then reply to the discussion and ask the question yourself. Your instructor will answer your questions in a timely manner. While visiting the Foro de dudas, don't hesitate to reply to classmates if you know the answers to their questions. The Foro de dudas will not disappear; you will have continuous access to this forum.

Reminder: Technical problems should be reported via the technical help form, and questions about grades or other individual issues should be emailed privately to your instructor.

IN-CLASS LEARNING

You will meet with your instructor and your classmates twice a week. Class time is tailored to promote writing and speaking skills through communicative activities using the structures and vocabulary that you will have practiced online prior to class. Therefore, your instructor will not provide extensive grammar and vocabulary instruction. Instead, the instructor's role in the classroom is that of a "communication facilitator." If you need help with grammar and/or vocabulary, see your instructor during office hours. You are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity. However, please do not expect your instructor to repeat a class that you have missed nor to answer questions about online assignments that you have not covered online. Do this work first and then see your instructor if you have questions. Please keep in mind that class attendance is mandatory and necessary for the acquisition and practice of the language. You are also responsible for having the required course materials with you during all class sessions.

You cannot request class PowerPoints presentations from your instructor even if you happen to miss a class. Additionally, you are not allowed to disseminate or share any class information or content material in any way and form to an online vendor, repository, tutoring, or quizzing site.

ONLINE LEARNING

These courses will employ technology to achieve more one-on-one interaction among you, your classmates, and your instructor. Online learning also provides the following advantages:

- Self-pacing: You can take the time you need to view the grammar and vocabulary presentations (tutorials) and to do the course's online activities as long as you submit the activities by the due date each week.
- Immediate feedback: You will receive your results immediately.

- Opportunity for improvement: You can submit most of your online activities more than once and therefore be able to learn from your errors.
- Easy access: You can complete online activities from any computer with access to the Internet through a reliable Internet browser (Firefox and Chrome are recommended).
- Varying activity types: The wide variety of activity types accommodates different learning styles.

Using Canvas

You will need to use Canvas, the Penn State course management system, for the following tasks:

- To complete your administrative quizzes (see the Administrative Assessments section below for more information).
- To view your first grammar and vocabulary presentations.
- To complete your first online quizzes (lesson L4.3 for Spanish 2 and L9.3 for Spanish 3).
- To take your written exams in the Pollock Testing Center.

No access code will be needed to access this Canvas course content. Check the Syllabus document of your level of Spanish or under the Syllabus tab in Canvas for due dates. There will NOT be an extension or a grace period for the completion of any of these assignments.

Using MyLab Spanish

Starting with lesson L5.1 for Spanish 2 and L10.1 for Spanish 3, you will need to use the course management system called MyLab Spanish (abbreviated from here on as MyLab) to watch the grammar and vocabulary presentations and to complete your quizzes. Visit the MyLab Spanish website, https://mlm.pearson.com/northamerica, to obtain basic information about this system. Your instructor will not address questions related to technical problems. These questions should be addressed by filling out the Technical Help Form.

NOTE: Registering in and accessing MyLab will happen through a navigation link within your Canvas course. The link is called "Pearson Access" and appears on the left side of the screen in Canvas.

Registration to MyLab Spanish

To register on MyLab, you will need to have your MyLab Student Access Code in hand. It is found in the pamphlet included with your textbook package. You will then need to follow the step-by-step instructions given in the Canvas page MyLab Spanish Registration, located in the Technology Tutorials module in your Canvas course.

If you have not secured your textbook with the access code by the time you need to begin your online work in MyLab, you may request a 14-day free trial of MyLab by clicking on the temporary access link at the bottom of the registration page on the Pearson website. However, you will need to have your textbook and the access code before the temporary access lapses, or your work may be lost. Please see the MyLab Spanish Registration Canvas page for more details.

Browser Tune-Up

Prior to completing any MyLab quizzes, make sure to carry out a Browser Tune-Up (see the link on each MyLab Quizzes page or in the MyLab Registration page in Canvas). This will ensure that your computer has the right browser and plug-ins. If the tune-up indicates that you need to download any software, please do so; this will guarantee optimal and full functionality.

Due Dates

In order to receive full credit, all quizzes in the lesson's folder must be completed by the due date. Please refer to the Syllabus for your level of Spanish or under the Syllabus tab in Canvas for the content and due date for each MyLab quiz folder. Late MyLab quizzes may be submitted up to 10 days after the due date, but this will result in a 10-point deduction for each day that they are late. Quizzes submitted after the 10-day grace period will not receive any credit. Technology problems and failures are not an excuse for unfinished work.

Expectations and Requirements for Coursework

Technological Training

You are responsible for watching all the tutorials located in the Technology Tutorials module in Canvas. Your instructor will not address questions related to technical problems with online assignments. For concerns related to technology, use the Technical Help Form.

Administrative Assessments

To have access to all lesson and exam modules in Canvas, you must perform all the activities in the Orientation module, in the following order:

- Complete the Diagnostic Questionnaire. This questionnaire is simply a way for us to get a better idea of your background with the Spanish language and to determine if you are in the correct level based on your experience. Once the Diagnostic Questionnaire is completed, a new assignment called Orientation Quiz about Syllabus and Policies will unlock.
- 2. Score 100% on the Quiz about the Syllabus and Policies. Once you have done this, the Academic Integrity Form will unlock.
- 3. Read and sign the Academic Integrity Form.

Once you have completed the above activities successfully, the first lesson (L4.3 for Spanish 2 and L9.3 for Spanish 3) will unlock. If you do not complete all these ungraded, yet mandatory assignments, you will not be able to begin your graded coursework in Canvas.

Expected Time Required (Approximate)

A general guideline for the amount of time you should plan to dedicate to a 4-credit course is 8-12 hours per week (2-3 hours per credit). The hybrid instruction concentrates on the acquisition of grammar and vocabulary, the development of listening, reading, and writing skills, and exposure to Hispanic culture. Each week, you will likely devote a minimum of 8 hours to complete the presentations and assignments described below.

Late Assignments

Please be aware that no late work will be allowed (unless previously approved). Absolutely no late assignments will be accepted without the instructor's written permission, except for late submissions of quizzes on MyLab during the 10-day grace period.

Assignments are due by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on the date indicated in the Syllabus for your level of Spanish or under the Syllabus tab in Canvas. Please be aware that Canvas follows the Eastern Time (ET) time zone. Assignment due dates adhere to this time zone, and it is your responsibility to submit assignments accordingly. If you are outside of the ET time zone, you can set your Canvas account to sync to it. Refer to the Set a Time Zone article in the Canvas Guide, https://community.canvaslms.com/docs/DOC-10622.

Program Academic Integrity Notice and Policies

At the beginning of the semester, you will be required to sign the SBLP Academic Integrity Form to access your first online assignments and written exams. Penn State defines academic integrity as the pursuit of scholarly activity in an open, honest, and responsible manner. All students should act with personal integrity; respect other students' dignity, rights, and property; and help create and maintain an environment in which all can succeed through the fruits of their efforts (Faculty Senate Policy 49-20).

Dishonesty of any kind will not be tolerated in the Spanish Basic Language Program and instructors are required to report all cases of academic dishonesty to the College of the Liberal Arts. Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, using electronic or online translators and generative AI (e.g., ChatGPT), fabricating information or citations, facilitating acts of academic dishonesty by others, sharing or having unauthorized possession of examinations or other kinds of evaluative assignments (such as online quizzes, essay topics, oral exam topics, etc.), submitting partial or complete work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, or tampering with the academic work of other students.

For all your Spanish assignments, you may consult with your instructor in preparation for graded work and only use a paper dictionary and your textbook when writing or when planning for an activity. You are not allowed to use an online dictionary, an online translator, or any generative AI tool (e.g., Spanishdict.com, Google Translate, OpenAI's ChatGPT, Baidu's Ernie, Google's Bard, etc.) to translate, edit, or write text (words, sentences, paragraphs) from English to Spanish, or vice versa. This applies both to your own prose in English and to prose in English that you take from a print or online source. Additionally, spell-checking, text-predicting, and autocorrecting features, along with grammar-checking applications for any language are not permitted for any of your writing assignments and exams. Also, you may not ask another person (e.g., friend, tutor, relative, etc.) for help with any graded activity. If you plan to talk with another person about the grammar content you will be using in your written or oral work, you must receive advance, explicit approval from your instructor, who will guide you as to what is deemed to be acceptable assistance. What you write or submit must be produced by you, not written, corrected, or edited by someone else or some external source like generative AI, Course Hero, or Chegg. Finally, you may not totally or partially copy or adapt sentences from any external source such as books, web pages, etc. or internal sources (discussions, tutorials, etc.).

If you fail to comply with any of the above policies, the incident will be reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation and your grade for the assignment or exam may result in a zero.

Please note: Paper dictionary use consists of a resource where you look up ONE word. Translation use consists of anything where you enter in MORE than one word at a time. As a reminder, online dictionaries, online translators, and generative AI tools are not allowed when writing, editing, or planning for an activity.

Three Writing Assignments (Escrituras): 9%

First Version of Escrituras: 6%Final Version of Escrituras: 3%

Three Written Exams: 60%

- Exam 1 (20%)
- Exam 2 (20%)
- Exam 3 (20%)
One Oral Exam: 5%

PRESENTATIONS AND ASSIGNMENTS

Presentations (Vocabulary and Grammar Tutorials)

Each week you will begin with the presentations of the lesson in Canvas or MyLab Spanish (as described on pp. 4-5). Here you will find video presentations, written explanations, and PowerPoint presentations on the lesson's grammar and vocabulary content. Review and study all presentations included in the lesson before beginning the activities/quizzes. Make sure to view all the MyLab presentations and complete all the MyLab online quizzes under the View All Course Materials tab, so you can have access to all instructional content and assigned activities.

Quizzes

Starting with lesson L4.3 (Spanish 2) and L9.3 (Spanish 3), all quizzes are graded assignments. Allow a minimum of 6 hours for all quizzes in each lesson. Your quizzes will have vocabulary, grammar, listening, reading, and pronunciation activities. These quizzes open weekly on Monday at 12:00 AM and are due the following Sunday at 11:59 PM.

Make sure that you review your answers carefully (including accents and spelling) before you submit your quizzes. You will have one attempt for activities with only two possible answers and two attempts for activities with three or more possible answers. If an activity does not follow these guidelines, this will be indicated in the instructions. The final grade of a quiz will be based on the highest score you receive on the activity. It is strongly recommended that before you log off, you check to see that your work has been properly submitted.

If you are unable to access the materials from your own computer, you are responsible for going to a lab on campus to complete the assignments on time. We recommend that you do the assignments ahead of time since this has the added benefit of allowing you enough time to contact your instructor to address questions you may have or to receive IT assistance should you encounter any technical-related problems.

In-Class Participation, Attendance, and Make-Ups

In-Class Participation

From week 2 until week 13, your instructor will evaluate your in-class participation performance every day and determine your participation grade for the week (maximum 100 points). See the Evaluation Criteria for Participation, https://sblp.la.psu.edu/courses/grading-criteria. You may contact your instructor during office hours to review your participation grades. If there is any disagreement, you should resolve it immediately with your instructor. Participation grades cannot be made up or recuperated without a documented excuse. Please see the Attendance Policy and Policy for Verification of Illness below for more details. During the entire class, all cellular phones, laptops, and other portable digital devices must be turned off and put away. Laptops and tablets may only be used for taking notes as long as you have your instructor's permission.

Attendance Policy

It is the policy of the University that class attendance is expected and that students should follow the attendance policy of the instructor as outlined in the syllabus. For purposes of our courses, your active class participation is crucial for learning a second language and you cannot participate if you are not in class. Regardless of the reason for your absence, failure to attend class always results in missed opportunities to practice Spanish. Therefore, in order to learn and succeed in this course, you should attend every scheduled class and complete on time all work covered in the course.

A student whose irregular attendance causes them, in the judgment of the instructor, a deficiency in their learning process, may run the risk of receiving a failing grade or a grade lower than the one the student might have secured had they regularly attended class. Your instructor will decide when your class absence constitutes a danger to your academic performance and will make this fact known to you at once. In any case, you will be responsible for contacting other classmates to obtain any missed information. If you arrive 20 minutes late (or more), or leave 20 minutes early (or more), it will be considered an absence.

If you miss a class or an evaluative assignment, you need to contact your instructor as soon as the unavoidable absence is known to discuss ways to make up the assignment. If you do not make contact before the assignment is due, your instructor may not consider the absence legitimate. You are responsible for using only legitimate, unavoidable reasons for requesting a make-up. Requests for missing class or an evaluative event due to reasons that are based on false claims may be considered violations of the University's policy on academic integrity (Senate Policy 49-20). Flight tickets or other documents not included below are not valid documentation for an absence to be approved.

The main difference between approved and unapproved absences is that you do not receive any participation points for unapproved absences. However, if you have approved absences, your participation grade will be adjusted accordingly (e.g., if you have a valid excuse for being absent for one day, your participation grade for that week will be based on the day you are present; if you are absent during a prolonged period, and your absence is approved, your weekly participation grade will be based on your average participation grade during the semester, to be assessed at the end of the semester).

Make-Ups Policies

APPROVED EXCUSES for making up any assignments (online or offline) or participation, include the following situations:

- Two unexcused absences throughout the semester. These days are to cover things such as minor illnesses; weddings; funerals; job interviews; participation in local, state, and federal government elections; etc. These are not 'free' days; use them wisely. These two absences cover your first two absences.
- Officially documented university-approved curricular and extracurricular activities, religious observances, and military service: If you miss a class or an assessment, you must provide your instructor with original documentation and must present a Class Absence Form, at https://undergrad.psu.edu/aappm/class_absence_v3.pdf, at least one week in advance of a planned absence.
- Family emergencies and accidents: During your enrollment at Penn State, unforeseen challenges may arise. If you ever must miss assignments and/or an extended amount of class due to an emergency, such as the death of a direct family member, an accident, or other circumstances beyond your control, please notify your instructor immediately so they can determine the best course of action to make up missed work. If you do not make contact before the assignment is due, your instructor might not consider the excuse legitimate. If your situation rises to a level of difficulty you cannot manage on your own with faculty support, reach out to the Student Care & Advocacy Office by phone at 814-863-2020 or email them at StudentCare@psu.edu. Office hours are held Monday-Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM EST.
- A documented, significant, prolonged illness: Email your instructor about your situation as soon as possible. You must present verification of illness to your instructor. See the Policy for Verification of Illness section below.

For more information, read the E-11 Class Attendance and Evaluation of Student Performance policy, https://undergrad.psu.edu/aappm/E-11-class-attendance.html.

Policy for Verification of Illness

A routine illness is a minor illness or injury, such as a cold, the flu, or a self-limited gastrointestinal disorder. For routine illness-related absences, students should correspond directly with their instructor as soon as possible regarding the situation, ideally before they miss a class, exam, or other evaluative activity. University Health Services (UHS) does not provide verification of illness forms for minor or routine illnesses or injuries. Students are not required to provide written documentation for minor or routine illnesses or injuries that cause class absence unless they become so frequent that they jeopardize the student's ability to succeed in the course.

If you missed an evaluative assignment due to a routine illness and you contacted your instructor before the assignment was due, you should make it up within the following week. Otherwise, your illness is considered prolonged, and your instructor may ask you to provide a verification of illness form upon return to class to be allowed to make up the evaluative assignment.

A significant, prolonged illness is a serious illness or injury lasting at least a week. Whenever possible, you are expected to provide verification of illness from University Health Services or outside clinicians for significant prolonged illnesses or injuries resulting in absences from classes. UHS may provide verification of illness forms for a significant, prolonged illness or injury resulting in absence from classes if UHS clinicians provided services or received relevant documentation from outside providers. When it is appropriate, you may request the verification during your UHS clinician visit or send a secure message to your clinician or the Advice Nurse through myUHS, https://studentaffairs.psu.edu/health/myuhs. Note that if you want a verification of illness from UHS and you have received care from an outside provider, the outside provider must furnish appropriate documentation to the UHS director (502A Student Health Center, 814-865-6555).

For you to make up any work missed due to a significant, prolonged illness, you must present verification of illness within a week of returning to class and make up all missed evaluative assignments within a week as well (or an agreed-upon, reasonable time based on personal situations). Please note that the verification of illness should not reveal any private health information and need not contain the signature of a clinician.

For guidance specific to COVID-19, see the COVID-19 Policies in this document.

Writing Assignments (Escrituras)

There will be three writing assignments (escrituras) during the semester, worth 10 points each. Escrituras must be a minimum of 75 words long for Spanish 2 and 85 words long for Spanish 3. Non-Spanish words and proper nouns do not count towards the word total. Each escritura will have a first version and a final version. Grades for the first and final versions of the escrituras are based on the Evaluation Criteria for Written Expression, https://sblp.la.psu.edu/courses/grading-criteria.

Escrituras: First versions

First versions will be written in class on the dates indicated on the syllabus for your level of Spanish. You will have 30 minutes to write your escrituras and you will be allowed to use only your paper textbook, printed/handwritten class notes, any class handouts provided by your instructor, a traditional (paper) dictionary, any book with verb conjugations, and verb charts. Your instructor will provide the topic in class on that day. You may not use any digital device (computer, tablet, cell phone, smartwatch, digital dictionary, online translator, etc.) during the writing of your in-class essay. You may not partially or totally copy or adapt sentences from your textbook, course PowerPoint presentations, notes, or from any other source. All your escrituras must be produced exclusively by you and should exclusively address the topic provided in class. They may not be written, corrected, or edited by someone other than yourself. The escritura must be 100% your own work. Failure to comply with this policy may result in a zero for the entire assignment, for both the first and final versions of the escrituras, and the incident will be reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation.

Additionally, you may not possess in any form nor disseminate by any means the escritura topics. Failure to comply with this policy will result in the incident being reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation, and you will also be susceptible to sanctions consistent with university guidelines, depending on the severity of the infraction.

If you miss class on the day an escritura is written and do not have a legitimate, unavoidable reason for your absence, you may have the opportunity to write it during your instructor's office hours by no later than the following week. However, you will not be able to submit a final version. In other words, you will receive a zero for the final version, even if you scored ten points on the make-up first version.

Escrituras: Final versions

Final versions are a rewrite of the first versions, done outside of class and following exclusively the instructor's editorial comments. The main content of the final version must be the same as what you wrote in the first version, without adding or taking out content unless otherwise stated by your instructor.

The final versions of escrituras are due at the beginning of class on the days specified on the syllabus of your level of Spanish. They have to be typed with Arial 12-point font, double spaced, 1" margins, legible, and printed out. If the final version is not properly formatted and typed, there will be a 0.5-point deduction in the escritura's grade. You must turn in the first version with the final version to your instructor. Failure to do so will result in a zero for the final version. If you receive 10 points for the first version of an escritura, you do not have to submit a final version for that escritura. In that case, you will automatically receive 10 points for the final version. However, if you receive less than 10 points for the first version, you must submit a final version. Failure to do so will result in a zero for the final version. You will not simply receive a duplicate grade from the first one.

You are expected to hand in escrituras on time and in class. If you are not in class the day the final version of the escritura is due, you must email the final version accompanied by a scanned version or legible image of the first version to your instructor by the time class begins on the day it is due. Do not leave any escrituras in your instructor's mailbox. The first version must still be turned in to your instructor upon return to class. Your instructor may also ask you to supply them with a hard copy of your final version. If you do not turn in a hard copy of the first and final versions of your escritura on this new due date, it may be considered and treated as a late assignment.

Late escrituras will receive point reductions. They will be downgraded by one point if received after the beginning of class on the due date and one additional point for each calendar day thereafter.

While working on the final version of an escritura, you may consult with your instructor in preparation for graded work and you may only use non-digital/paper dictionaries and grammar reference materials. You may not use an online dictionary, an online translator, or any generative AI tool (e.g., Spanishdict.com, Google Translate, OpenAl's ChatGPT, Baidu's Ernie, Google's Bard, etc.) to translate, edit, or write text (words, sentences, paragraphs) from English to Spanish, or vice versa. You may not use any grammar structures that have not been covered in the course. You may not ask another person (e.g., friend, tutor, relative, etc.) for help with the writing, editing, or correcting of any part of your escritura. If you plan to talk with another person about the grammar content you will be using in your written work, you must receive advance, explicit approval from your instructor, who will also guide you as to what is deemed to be acceptable assistance. What you write or submit must be produced by you, not written, corrected, or edited by someone else or some external source like generative AI, Course Hero, or Chegg. If your assignment is adapted or taken partially or totally from an external source such as published information (a book, web page, etc.), course PowerPoints, or is produced by a translation program or by another person, it may result in a zero for the first and final versions of the escritura, the incident will be reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation, and you may also be susceptible to other sanctions consistent with University guidelines, depending on the severity of the infraction.

Written Exams

There will be three non-cumulative, closed-book written exams in Spanish 2 and 3. They are representative of the type of instruction, content, and practice offered during these courses. They will include listening, grammar, vocabulary, reading, and writing sections. Exams grades are not curved or rounded.

All three exams will take place at the Pollock Testing Center, 104 Pollock Building. You will receive an email from the Pollock Testing Center prompting you to schedule your exam. You should not schedule your exam later than 9:45 PM in order to be sure that you have sufficient time to finish it before the Pollock Testing Center closes (11:00 PM). If you have extended time for exams, you are responsible for taking into consideration any additional time and the Pollock Testing Center's hours when scheduling your exams. Also, you should not schedule your exam for times that may conflict with your Spanish class. Exam dates are specified in the syllabus for your level of Spanish.

You must bring your Penn State ID and your own traditional wired headphones with a 3.5 mm jack to these exams. Wireless Bluetooth headphones are not compatible with the Pollock Testing Center's computers. Computers in the Pollock Testing Center do not have speakers, and there are no headphones for you to borrow. You may take the exam without the headphones, but you will not be able to listen to the script in the listening section of the exam.

The Pollock Testing Center will provide you with a piece of bar-coded paper to use during the exam. You are not allowed to copy information from any source onto this paper prior to logging in to the exam. The bar-coded paper must always remain visible and on the table throughout your exam. You must scan and return the entire sheet of bar-coded paper before leaving the Pollock Testing Center. Failure to comply with these policies may result in a zero on your exam and will be reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation.

During your exam, you can only have your Penn State ID, wired headphones with a standard 3.5 mm jack, a pencil/pen, and the bar-coded paper. Because these are closed-book exams, you will not be allowed to have anything else with you during the exam (including your cell phone, smart watch, books, notes, etc.).

Your sentences in the exam, including those in your composition, must be your own work. You cannot adapt or totally or partially copy/use sentences from the reading section or from any other section of the exam in your answers. If you do so, this may result in a zero in the exam, this incident will be reported to the College of Liberal Arts as academic dishonesty violation, and you might also be susceptible to other sanctions consistent with university guidelines, depending on the severity of the infraction.

It is also your responsibility to notify the staff at the Pollock Testing Center check-in desk immediately of any technical or medical issues. Re-taking exams after you have submitted your exam and left the Testing Center will not be allowed under any circumstances. During the exam's week, you can re-schedule your exam if there are still seats available at the Pollock Testing Center. If there are no seats available and if you have a legitimate excuse for missing your exam, you will have to contact your instructor prior to your scheduled time, so they can schedule your make-up exam. For more information about the Pollock Testing Center, please visit their website, https://testing.psu.edu.

You can review your exam during your instructor's office hours within two weeks after your grade has been posted in Canvas.

If you do not show up for your written exam or arrive late, you will not be allowed to take the exam that week nor will you be permitted to make it up at a later date, unless you contacted your instructor prior to your scheduled exam with a legitimate and unavoidable reason or you present valid documentation for your absence.

Do not participate in the retention (e.g., taking pictures, etc.) and/or sharing of exam details (e.g., questions, answers, vignettes, etc.). You may not receive or disseminate exam details from or to other people or on the web. Exam details may not be sent or received through any means of communication (e.g., text, images, word of mouth, etc.). Failure to comply with this policy will result in the incident being reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation, and you will also be susceptible to sanctions consistent with university guidelines, depending on the severity of the infraction.

Oral Exam

There will be one closed-book oral exam during class time and in your regular classroom on Monday and Wednesday of Week 15. You will not have regular class on these two days. You will attend only the day and time you are scheduled to take the exam.

The oral exam will be in pairs and will consist of a 5-minute dialogue conversation (or a 7.5-minute one for groups of three, should there be any), including your instructor's follow-up questions. On the day of the oral exam, each student will be allowed to randomly select a card that contains a brief description of a possible topic for the dialogue, and you will then choose the one you prefer to do together as a group. You will be given 5 minutes to prepare your presentation prior to the dialogue. Having concluded your 5-minute preparation, you and your partner will first speak to each other for four minutes; groups of three (if any) will converse for six minutes. After your 4-minute (or 6-minute) conversation, your instructor will ask each of you a couple of follow-up questions during the remaining time. Please note that students with disability accommodations must inform their instructor of their intention of having required added time for exams apply to their oral exam by no later than week 8 of the semester.

The oral exam will provide you with the opportunity to use the verb tenses, vocabulary, and other material learned during the semester. You can only use your printed textbook, a paper dictionary, and your non-digital notes and handouts to prepare for the conversation, but you will not be allowed to have anything with you during the conversation. Remember, you may not read from a script. Your conversation must be spontaneous.

The oral exam is worth 20 points and each student's performance will be graded individually following the Evaluation Criteria for Oral Expression, https://sblp.la.psu.edu/courses/grading-criteria. You and your partner will sign up for a time slot in Week 13.

If you do not show up for your oral exam or arrive late, you will not be allowed to take the exam that week nor will you be permitted to make it up at a later date, unless you contacted your instructor prior to your scheduled exam with a legitimate and unavoidable reason or you present valid documentation for your absence.

You may not possess in any form nor disseminate by any means the topic(s) for the oral exam. Failure to comply with this policy will result in the incident being reported to the College of the Liberal Arts as an academic integrity violation, and you will also be susceptible to sanctions consistent with university guidelines, depending on the severity of the infraction.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

SBLP Policies

Final Grades and Extra Credit

Final grades are neither curved nor rounded, and extra credit and extra work will not be given under any circumstances.

Disagreements and Grade Disputes

You may contact your instructor during their office hours to review your grades. Should there be any disagreement, you should resolve it immediately with your instructor. No excuses will be accepted to recover points lost because of failure to submit work. If you provide written documentation about your absence(s) and your instructor considers it acceptable, a solution will be provided. See the Make-up Exams and Assignments section above.

If you disagree with a grade or have problems with your instructor, please contact them immediately and try to resolve the disagreement together. If it cannot be resolved, contact the Spanish 2 and 3 Administrative Supervisor: Borja Gutiérrez, bxg207@psu.edu, 814-865-6587. He will ask you for written documentation of your version of the dispute before meeting with you both. If you cannot reach the Administrative Supervisor, please contact the Assistant Director: Damián Solano Escolano, dvs6223@psu.edu, 814-863-7616. Please understand that supervisors, coordinators, department heads, and higher administrators cannot require an instructor to change a grade but can only serve as mediators. All grade disputes, for whatever type of assignment, should be addressed no later than a week after the grade has been submitted in Canvas.

University Policies

COVID-19 Policies

The University will provide an update when masking is required. For up-to-date information about AD101 COVID-19 policy and current health guidelines, please visit https://policy.psu.edu/policies/ad101 and https://virusinfo.psu.edu/health-guidelines. The course will be following the Penn State COVID-19 guidance for faculty and instructors, https://vpfa.psu.edu/files/2022/08/Penn-State-StudentCOVID-19Guidance-for-Faculty-and-Instructors.081622.pdf.

If you are seriously sick, you should not attend class in person and are encouraged to contact a healthcare provider. You may participate remotely if your instructor allows it. If attending virtually is not an option, your absence and any work that you may need to make-up will be dealt with following our program's make-up policies and the policy for verification of illness outlined above. If you are not in class, you may be contacted by your instructor to check up on you.

In the event that your instructor is unable to teach in person, classes will be met by a temporary instructor, delivered remotely and synchronously (via Zoom), or addressed through asynchronous assignments and activities. If classes are remote and synchronous, you can bring your own device to the classroom during the scheduled class time to connect to class from that location.

Academic Integrity

Penn State defines academic integrity as "the pursuit of scholarly activity in an open, honest, and responsible manner. All students should act with personal integrity, respect other students' dignity, rights and property, and help create and maintain an environment in which all can succeed through the fruits of their efforts" (Faculty Senate Policy 49-20). According to Penn State policy G-9: Academic Integrity (https://undergrad.psu.edu/aappm/G-9-academic-integrity.html), an academic integrity violation is "an intentional, unintentional, or attempted violation of course or assessment policies to gain an academic advantage or to advantage or disadvantage another student academically." Students with questions about academic integrity should ask their instructor before submitting work.

Dishonesty of any kind will not be tolerated in this course. Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, using online translators and online dictionaries, using ideas or word phrases created by another person (e.g., a peer or family member or from Course Hero or Chegg) or by a generative Al tool, fabricating information, or facilitating acts of academic dishonesty by others, sharing or having unauthorized possession of examinations or other kinds of evaluative assignments (e.g., online quizzes, exam questions, essay and oral exam topics, etc.), submitting work produced by another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, or tampering with the academic work of other students. Students who are found to be dishonest will receive academic sanctions and an Academic Integrity Form will be reported to the College of Liberal Arts. Once an allegation of academic dishonesty has been made, a student may not drop/withdraw from the course unless they are cleared of wrongdoing. Students who drop the course while facing allegations of academic misconduct will be immediately reenrolled in the course and will be expected to complete course work and meet course deadlines until the allegations are dismissed and the drop is permitted. Students responsible for academic misconduct often receive academic sanctions, which can be severe, and may be subjected to disciplinary sanctions assigned by the University's Office of Student Conduct (see Senate Policy G-9), including ineligibility for Dean's List, pass/fail elections, and grade forgiveness. Students may also face consequences from their home/major and/or The Schreyer Honors College.

Questions about academic integrity can be referred to the Chair of the Liberal Arts Academic Integrity Committee. For more information read the Academic Integrity Information for Students at: https://la.psu.edu/current-students/academics/academic-integrity.

All course materials you receive or access are protected by copyright laws and are limited to class members for the duration of the course only. You may use the course materials for your own use, but unauthorized distribution and/or uploading of materials without the instructor's express permission is strictly prohibited. You are not allowed to take pictures or screenshots of any part of an exam, graded activity, lesson, or course PowerPoint. Students who engage in the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials may be held in violation of the University's Code of Conduct and/or liable under Federal and State laws. More information about the TEACH Act can be found at TEACH Act and copyright laws, https://copyright.psu.edu/psu-policy/teach-act.

Academic Conduct

The Spanish Basic Language Program supports the authority of the instructors and encourages the spirit of respect and academic discipline in the course. For other general university policies regarding academic conduct please visit the Office of Student Accountability and Conflict Response at https://studentaffairs.psu.edu/student-accountability. Academic dishonesty includes the use of electronic or online translators and generative AI tools. Students who are found to be dishonest will be reported to the College of the Liberal Arts and will also receive academic and/or disciplinary sanctions, depending on the severity of the infraction.

Tutoring

If you need help with Spanish, Penn State Learning offers free drop-in tutoring. You are encouraged to use this service throughout the semester. For location and schedule, visit the Penn State Learning website, https://pennstatelearning.psu.edu/tutoring/spanish.

Late Drop

It is your responsibility to drop the course if you decide to no longer be enrolled. For important dates such as the regular drop-add period, the filing period for conflict final exams, late drop, withdrawing from a course or from the university, please see the University Academic Calendar for the semester at https://www.registrar.psu.edu/academic-calendars.

For further information on PSU's policies and procedures on adding and dropping courses, withdrawal, and leave of absence, visit the University Registrar's Registration webpage at https://www.registrar.psu.edu/registration.

Deferred Grades

Approval for a deferred grade must be given by the instructor of the course. If you want to request a deferred grade, contact your instructor by week 14. If a deferred grade is approved, you will have to complete all the work for the course within 10 weeks after the course end date. Deferred grades are not permitted unless you have completed at least 75% of the course material. For further information on deferred grades, visit the University Registrar's Registration webpage at https://www.registrar.psu.edu/grades/deferred-grades.cfm.

Disability Access

Penn State welcomes students with disabilities into the University's educational programs. Every Penn State campus has an office for students with disabilities. The Student Disability Resources website provides contact information for every Penn State campus at https://equity.psu.edu/student-disability-resources/campus-disability-coordinators. For further information, please visit the Student Disability Resources website at https://equity.psu.edu/student-disability-resources.

In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, you must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation described at https://equity.psu.edu/student-disability-resources/applying-for-services. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus's disability services office will provide you with an accommodation letter. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. You must follow this process for every semester that you request accommodations.

Nondiscrimination

Penn State is committed to equal access to programs, facilities, admission and employment for all persons. It is the policy of the University to maintain an environment free of harassment and free of discrimination against any person because of age, race, color, ancestry, national origin, religion, creed, service in the uniformed services (as defined in state and federal law), veteran status, sex, sexual orientation, marital or family status, pregnancy, pregnancy-related conditions, physical or mental disability, gender, perceived gender, gender identity, genetic information or political ideas. Discriminatory conduct and harassment, as well as sexual misconduct and relationship violence, violates the dignity of individuals, impedes the realization of the University's educational mission, and will not be tolerated. For further information, please visit the Office of Equal Opportunity and Access website at https://equalopportunity.psu.edu.

Reporting a Bias Incident

Penn State takes great pride to foster a diverse and inclusive environment for students, faculty, and staff. Acts of intolerance, discrimination, or harassment due to age, ancestry, color, disability, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religious belief, sexual orientation, or veteran status are not tolerated and can be reported through Educational Equity via the Report Bias webpage, https://equity.psu.edu/reportbias.

Counseling and Psychological Services

Penn State's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) office offers Penn State students residential and distance-based non-emergency mental health services in the form of case management, community resource referrals, supportive listening, care giver support, and much more.

Students may request assistance from CAPS regarding a variety of common mental health issues, including anxiety, depression, relationship difficulties, and stress. CAPS services are designed to enhance students' ability to fully benefit from the University environment and academic experience. Call CAPS at 814-863-0395 (Monday – Friday, 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM EST) or submit an inquiry online at https://studentaffairs.psu.edu/form/caps-contact-form to schedule an appointment with a mental health advocate, who can help you address mental health concerns that may interfere with your academic progress or social development. This appointment will include a one-on-one session that can be conducted via telephone, teleconference, or locally at Penn State University Park. For more information on services provided through CAPS, please visit the Penn State CAPS website at https://studentaffairs.psu.edu/counseling.

THESE SERVICES ARE FOR NON-EMERGENCIES ONLY. IF YOU OR SOMEONE YOU KNOW IS EXPERIENCING A CRISIS SITUATION, PLEASE CALL YOUR LOCAL CRISIS CENTER OR 911.
